

TRIBUTE BY WILSON TO UNKNOWN MEN

Who Constitute Body of Nation—President Calls for Every-Day Patriotism at Flag Day Exercises.

Washington, June 14.—A tribute to the "great multitude of unknown men" who constitute the body of the nation, and an appeal for patriotism in every day life, instead of on special occasions only, marked a speech by President Wilson today from the treasury steps at Flag Day exercises.

While the president made no direct reference to the European war and international questions, his every word about American patriotism and what it means in these times was greeted with enthusiasm and prolonged applause.

In introducing Mr. Wilson, Secretary McAdoo, said the meeting was held to pay homage to the "flag of our country at a time when it has a deeper significance than ever before in the world's history; when it is the hope of civilization."

What the Flag Means.

"For me," said the president, "the flag does not express a mere body of vague sentiment. It is the embodiment of a continent, but of a history, and no man can rightly serve under that flag who has not caught some of the meaning of that history. 'You do not create the meaning of a national life by any literary expression of it, but by the actual daily endeavors of a great people to do the tasks of the day and live up to the ideals of honesty and righteousness and just conduct. And as we think of these things, our tribute is to those men who have created this experience. Of these men we feel that the physical emblem shown us the way. They have not been afraid to go before. They have known that they were speaking the thoughts of a great people when they told that great people along the path of achievement. There was not a single swash-buckler among them. They were men of sober, quiet thought, the more effective because there was no show of it. They were men who thought along the lines of duty, not along the lines of self-aggrandizement. They were men, in short, who thought of the people whom they served and not of themselves.

Real Body of Nation.

"But while we think of them and do honor to them as those who have shown us the way, let us not forget that the real experience and life of a nation lies with the great multitude of unknown men. They constitute the body of the nation. The flag is the sense of their daily endeavors. This flag does not express any more than what they are and what they desire to be, and as I think of the life of this great nation, it seems to me that we sometimes look to the wrong places for its source.

We look to the noisy places, where men are talking in the market places, we look to where men are expressing their individual opinions; we look where men are expressing passion; instead of trying to attain our ends as the voices of men who are earnestly going about their daily tasks, try to be honorable, try to serve the people they love, try to live worthy of the great community to which they belong. These are the breath of the nation's soul; these are the signs of its might.

Patriotism for All Days.

"There are no days of special patriotism for the nation; there are the signs of it. There are no days when you should be more patriotic than on other days."

I am solemnized in the presence of such a gathering. I am glad to speak your thoughts. You must interpret them for me. I am not a public official, but of every man and woman of the nation, there is a great heart which has brought us to the present day, the heart that has never flinched from the duties which it has always responded to the dictates of humanity and of liberty, the heart which will always constitute the strength and the great body of friends of every man who has his duty to the United States.

"I am sorry that you do not wear a little flag of the union every day instead of some days, and I can only ask you, if you wear the physical emblem, to be sure that you wear it in your heart. Let the heart of America shall interest the heart of the world."

PEACE OFFERED TO MEXICO

Gen. Villa Notifies Washington He Has Appealed to Carranza—Villa Admits No Recognized Authority Prevails.

Washington, June 14.—The United States was formally notified today by General Villa, on behalf of the Mexican revolutionary forces, that he had telegraphed Carranza, asking for a conference for the restoration of peace and constitutional government in Mexico.

This step is the first tangible development resulting from President Wilson's recent warning to all Mexican factions that unless they came to an agreement among themselves soon, some other means would be employed by the United States to relieve the suffering population from further devastation of the military element. On General Carranza's reply depends the next move in the situation.

Mexican Republic.

Coincidentally the state department was advised by Miss Mabel Boardman, of the United States Red Cross, that Mexican authorities at Piedras Negras had denied entry to a carload of foodstuffs coming from the United States in Monclova. Consul Blocker is endeavoring to use his good offices to arrange for the transportation of the supplies. One report said that General Carranza had declared the supplies "not only were not needed but would not be allowed to enter." The state department will take no further action.

The announcement that General Villa had initiated a movement for peace was received with satisfaction in official quarters. Enrique G. Lorente, Washington representative of the Villa-Zapata coalition, called on Secretary Lansing with a copy of the Villa telegram to Carranza and a long note from General Villa replying to President Wilson's recent pronouncement of policy. The note referred appreciatively to the president's efforts and outlined the purposes of the Villa-Zapata leaders to bring about a reconciliation with the Carranzistas.

Villa to Carranza.

In the message to Carranza, dated June 14, and sent direct from the camp of the northern general at Vera Cruz, stress is laid upon President Wilson's warning that the United States would be "obliged to decide on other methods," should a coalition of the factions prove futile.

General Villa says: "In our opinion, this declaration involves two perils, which may frustrate the ends of the revolution, and impair our sovereignty. First, the coalition with any other group, might again enthroned the American imperialist assistance. Second, should the people not might have recourse to armed insurrection in the face of these two imminent dangers, and without recognizing the right of the American government to intervene in our affairs, we think that we should seek means that would permit the reunion and reorganization of the constitutional party, even though it be indispensable to make sacrifices of self-interest. We also think that this is the patriotic and the future welfare of our country require of us."

In such sense, we propose to you that we take under consideration President Wilson's note and that, if you are so disposed, we may discuss and agree at once upon the feasible general procedure in the reorganization of the national constitutional government. We have already placed ourselves in touch with the chief of the convention government, as well as with the commanding general of the army of the south.

Not Animated by Ambition.

In the memorandum filed at the state department, General Villa sums up with the following: "We are not animated by ambition; we have not been animated by ambition for power, nor do we desire in any form to obtain it by means other than the free vote of the Mexican people."

As a basis, as the desire to constitute the country relative to the restoration of a legal regime, with constitutional sanction, is accepted by the Carranza faction, we are disposed, in the light of possible intervention in our national problems by foreign power, to again invite all those Mexicans to unite and collaborate with us in the work of realizing the principles of the revolution, especially the principle of the development of instruction for the masses. We only except from this invitation those who, according to the world's opinion, have ignored the constitution of the republic and employed their power against the interests of the people.

"The Mexican people entertain sincere gratitude toward those of the United States for their generous sympathy and moral support, and I am pleased to observe that President Wilson recognizes that the people and government of the United States make no pretense of right to take part in the solution of our internal affairs."

General Villa admits the contention that there is no recognized authority throughout the country. He refers, however, to a message to him from Duval West, President Wilson's representative, in which he gives him pleasure in the recognition of the authority and order which I have observed everywhere. He also quotes from a message of Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice, British ambassador to the United States, to a representative in northern Mexico, expressing gratification to the Villa government for "prompt action in protecting British interests."

ROMANIA AGREES WITH THE ALLIES

Understanding Reached and Rumania Will Soon Enter War—Greece and Serbia Not Pleased.

Rome, June 14.—(Via Paris.)—A dispatch to The Giornale d'Italia from Sofia says: "M. Filipescu, leader of the Rumanian conservatives, declared today that the quadruple entente powers (Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy) have agreed to the demands of Rumania. Therefore a definite conclusion of an understanding for the intervention of Rumania in the war is imminent."

"Greece and Serbia will send an identical note to the Bulgarian premier, M. Radolovitch, and his cabinet declining the proposals of the quadruple entente powers for the cession of Macedonia territory to Bulgaria."

The correspondent of The Giornale d'Italia in his dispatch adds: "I am assured that Greece and Serbia are sending a note of protest to the great powers, declaring that it is impossible for a Balkan under-standing on such terms. M. Radolovitch and his cabinet will use pressure on the Greek government because in the end the conception of the quadruple entente is based on right, and just consideration of national aspirations in the Balkans must prevail."

ITALIANS ATTACK AUSTRIAN FRONT

Heavy Fighting Reported in Region of Plava—Vienna Reports That Italian Attacks Have Failed.

London, June 14.—Along the Austro-Italian frontier there is heavy fighting in the region of Plava. This town the Italians were reported to have captured, but Vienna denies this. The Austrians declare that along the Isonzo river the Italian forces have nowhere succeeded in piercing the Austrian front. Although the Italians apparently have won some advantages, the Austrians have fought up reinforcements and are offering determined resistance.

TOWARDS TRIEST.

Ligano, Switzerland, June 14.—(Via Geneva and Paris.)—The Italian army which has forced its way across the lower Isonzo, capturing Montefalco, is pushing forward along the Gulf of Trieste towards the city of Trieste. Further progress was made yesterday. The next immediate objective is the town of Mafra, on the Gulf, near the Italian frontier.

ITALIANS REPULSED.

AUSTRIANS REPORT.

Vienna, June 14.—(Via London.)—The Austrian war office has issued the following: "The Italian war theater: A battle occurred near Plava June 12. (Deletion by the censor). Late yesterday evening our troops repulsed a fresh attack. The Italians have succeeded nowhere in piercing our front on the Isonzo. On the Carinthian-Tyrol frontier there has been no incident of importance. "Balkan war theater: South of Arsonce one of our field guards repulsed an attack of about 200 Montenegrins after a brief fight. Otherwise the southeastern situation remains unchanged. VENIZEOS CARRIES TELEGRAMS TO GREECE

Athens, June 14.—(Via Paris.)—The latest return from the returns for the elections, while confirming the success of the Venizelos party, are not yet definitive enough to indicate the exact majority. Government candidates in Macedonia were elected.

The partisans of M. Gounaris, the present premier, assert that they have elected 121 out of 216 deputies.

King Constantine has not yet learned the result of the election, as his physical condition continues to cause anxiety.

Change of ministry may be postponed by the government for forty days. The present cabinet is expected to remain in power until the end of August.

KING CONSTANTINE IN WEAK CONDITION

London, June 15.—(2:44 a. m.)—Reuter's Athens correspondent telegraphed Monday night says: "Monday night's bulletin says that the weakness of King Constantine continues. His temperature tonight was 98.4, pulse 100 and respiration 20."

White Waists

A Thousand o' Them, All Fresh, All New, All Priced Below Worth

For a Greater, Finer June Sale

This is our best—mark you, our best, and we warrant it brings a distinctly better opportunity to select pretty, dainty summer blouses than Atlanta has known in many and many a day.

The Waist Chief went into New York recently and bought—bought with rare and good taste, coupled with rare good fortune.

He caught one maker known across the breadth of the United States for the smartness of his styles at the psychological moment to effect a tremendously profitable deal for you. We got from him waists at prices all out of reason with what we could have expected.

These are ready for the June sale—and with them others and others—but you should see, you shall see.

The point is—this is the crystallization of our best efforts; it is waist-buying time. With the warm season still ahead of us, we bring savings that would do credit to our most strenuous clearaways.

Come expecting better things; come to select them by the half-dozen; you will, once you see.

At $1 Twenty-five styles	At $2.25 Five Styles
At $1.50 Six Styles	At $2.95 Seven Styles
At $1.95 Twelve Styles	At $3.95 Eight Styles

Points Worth Noting About the June Waist Sale

- The notable feature of the sale is, first of all, values, values, values. We haven't had such before!
- The styles need no arguing—let a woman's eyes but see them.
- The wide variety must be impressive.
- Daintiest, most lacy affairs throughout to the linens in tailored styles.
- For instance, at $1.00 are organdies, voiles and also linens and allover embroidery waists.
- Think of twenty-five styles of waists at $1.00!
- Dutch Boy collars are much in evidence, usually of crisp organdie.
- Vestees of organdie in waists at $1.50 and $3.95.
- The use of Puritan collars is very noticeable.
- A smart affair at $1.50 has cream lace inserts put in diagonally in the front and back.
- One model of flaked voile at $1.95 has a big black satin bow.
- You will find tucks used in a new way on one style at $2.25—placed very low, they go around the waist.
- Hand-machine embroidery on waists at $2.95.
- Not a waist in the $3.95 lot is worth less than $5.00; from that they go through $5.75, $6.50 and $7.50.

CRACKERS TO PONCE DE LEON

Play Mobile Guns Five Games, Then Barons Four, Then Will Hit the Road Again.

By Dick Jemmison.

After being away from home since May 15, the road-weary Crackers will have some effect on the Crakers as they will be to battle with the Mobile Guns in a five-game series. Today's game starts at 2:30 o'clock.

Maybe they're in the same plight as Bill Schwartz's Vols when they were in Atlanta—hardly know the way home. But if the return home has the same effect on the Crackers as it did on the Vols, then the trip was worth it.

As soon as they get back the Vols started playing winning baseball. The last time the Gulls were away they dropped all three games to the Crackers. Since then they have won some changes in their roster.

Mokey and his crippled Barons follow the Gulls for four games the first part of next week, after which the Crackers play four games in Mobile and Birmingham, then return to Atlanta to play with New Orleans, Chattanooga, Memphis, Little Rock and Nashville, in that order.

Allen will probably draw the opening game assignment against the Gulls today.
